Dear Parents,

We understand that many of you experienced technical issues with the Goyal Books Online website yesterday. We have been in direct contact with Goyal Books for more information, and they have stated that the website was down due to an exceptionally high volume of traffic.

We appreciate that this has caused a great deal of inconvenience for GEMS families, for which we apologise. However, I am pleased to report that Goyal Books Online have assured us that the issue has now been fully resolved.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Asha Alexander
