Parents and Students Cybersecurity Guide

Dear Parent,

The Internet is an incredible platform for children to learn, express themselves and have fun, but it also has its dark side. Not everything on the Internet is safe and can be trusted. Even though the benefits outweigh the potential dangers, parents and guardians must be aware of the real risks that children may be exposed to online. This guide contains an illustrative list of scenarios and general recommendations to parents on how to protect themselves and their children against most common cybersecurity threats. Kindly access the guide through the below link:
