Online Learning to continue on 17th April 2024

Dear Parents,

As the exceptionally challenging weather is still disrupting much of the UAE, we have decided that GEMS Legacy school will continue remote learning for tomorrow (Wednesday 17 April) for the safety of all our community.

As today, students should be ready to begin lessons at the usual time and our teaching staff will provide all the necessary instructions to continue as seamless a learning experience as possible for all our students.

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation as we navigate these challenging circumstances together. We will continue to keep you updated with any further developments.

We hope you are all keeping safe and as dry as possible in the circumstances.

Warm regards,

Asha Alexander
