Online Learning to continue on 22nd April & 23rd April 2024

Dear Parents,

We wish to inform you that although the school facilities and infrastructure are safe and ready to welcome our students back to school, several areas in Sharjah and Dubai, continue to be inaccessible due to the waterlogging and flooding, following the exceptional weather conditions that have disrupted the entire UAE. Considering that a large percentage of our teachers and students residing in these areas are impacted, GEMS Legacy School will continue with remote learning for the next two days, Monday 22nd and Tuesday 23rd April 2024.

This decision has been made with the safety and wellbeing of our students and staff as our prime concern and with the full approval of the relevant authorities. Online learning will ensure that our students safely access learning from home and their learning is not disrupted due to delays in commuting to and from the school, in such challenging situations particularly from the affected areas.

With the forecast for rain on Monday and Tuesday, we will continue to keep you updated with any further developments and, in the meantime, hope you are all safe as we wait for the restoration services to be completed and for normalcy to return.

Thank you so very much for your patience and for your much-appreciated support and understanding.

Warm regards,

Asha Alexander
